BSFS has a very low volume members-only announcement mailing list. Only the moderator can post.

Check if you want to receive member-only announcements.

BSFS has a fairly high volume general information and announcements list. Any member of this list can post to the list. We ask that list members (1) Introduce only organization-related or genre-related topics which would be of interest to most list members; and (2) take extended discussions between a small number of people off-list.

Check here to join the BSFS General mailing list.

We rarely send postal mail to members. If you don't want to see any postal mail from us ever, you can opt out. Members-Only information can be found on the members-only "secret site."

To opt out of postal mail and authorize us to communicate BSFS business to you via BSFS website announcements and email, check here.
